

Our Luxembourg-China desk

Your gateway to Europe and beyond | 2020

Why Luxembourg?

Measuring the importance of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg by its size of 2,586 square kilometres or by its population of about half a million people does not do justice to its political and, more importantly, its economic importance globally. Luxembourg is now a strategic gateway for investments into Europe and, generally, for structuring investments worldwide.

Why our Luxembourg-China desk?

As a firm, around 70% of our work is on cross-border mandates. We excel in supporting our clients with their international expansion by relying on both our unequalled footprint and the expertise of our highly qualified lawyers in each local jurisdiction.

Our Luxembourg-China desk advises Chinese (and wider APAC) based clients on Luxembourg legal matters and assists them in expanding their business operations into the European and/or international markets through Luxembourg structures.

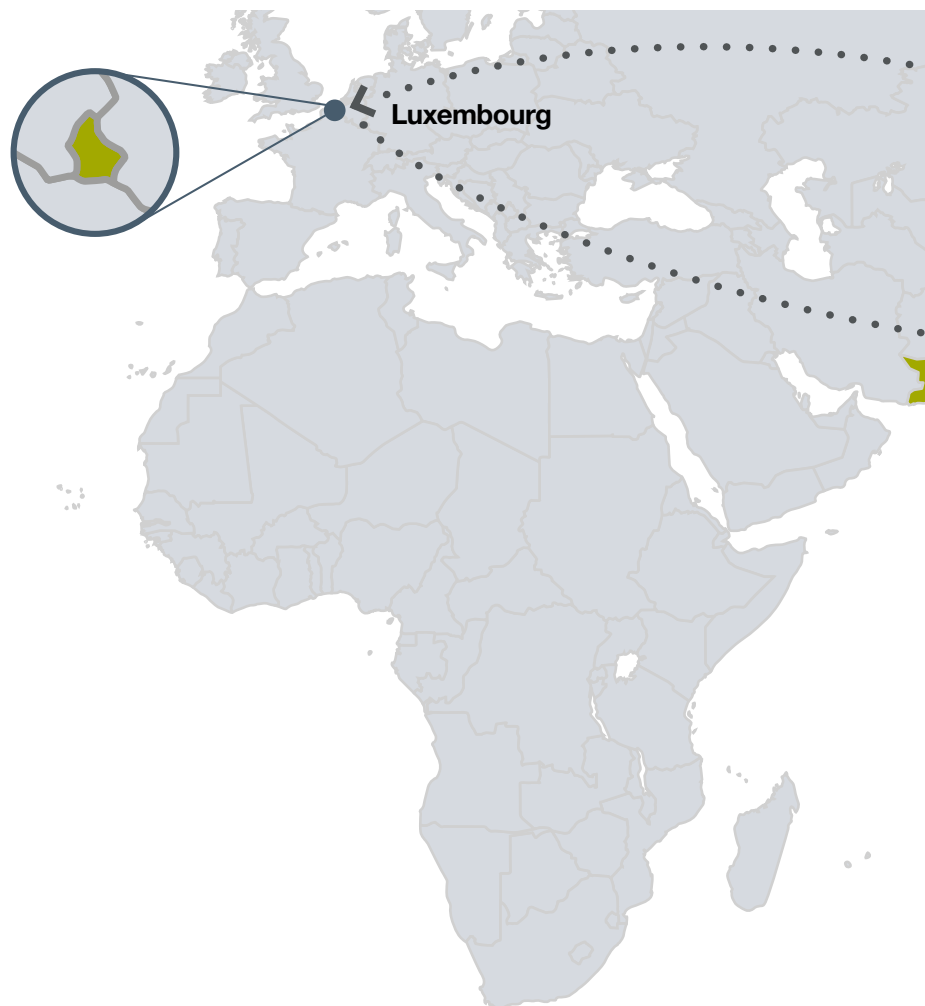

The Luxembourg-China desk works hand-in-hand with our Luxembourg office, which is full-service, as well as with our network of 12 offices located across the region.

By bringing together resources from our Luxembourg office in China (and the wider APAC region) with local capability, we can assist clients in pursuing inbound or outbound expansion in or out of the region through our unmatched cross-border expertise and seamless legal services.
